Hearts & Hands in Ministry

Janet Price

Janet is one of our young teens who has become our mainstay server at the 5 pm Liturgy. The ranks are kind of thin at this Mass for servers and Janet has graciously stepped up to serve well beyond the normal. We thank Janet for her generosity and we also encourage both youth and adults to think about volunteering at this Liturgy. We need help in all the ministries.

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul

Is there a family you know who needs assistance? Please call the Society of St. Vincent de Paul at 812-425-3485 so that together we can help those who are suffering.

Discipleship: Serving Others in Christ's Name

Part Six ~ By Joan Weber

Explore

Sometimes we Catholics forget that service is integral to our Catholic identity. When we serve, we are saying yes to our baptismal call to be disciples of Jesus in the world. Yet we often over-focus on rules and regulations, or on accumulating knowledge, while neglecting to take action as part of our discipleship.

Today is a wonderful time to be Catholic. Pope Francis has called on all Catholics to be Jesus in the world. And both Scripture and our Church teachings echo Jesus in proclaiming the importance of service to living faithfully as disciples. Jesus' entire ministry embodied reaching out to those in need. But even as far back as the Pentateuch, God invited us to have a preferential option for the poor and vulnerable.

Church Teaching

Church leaders at Vatican Council II saw service as a way of following Christ. They declared in Ad Gentes:

> "This mission continues and, in the course of history, unfolds the mission of Christ, who was sent to evangelize the poor; so the Church, urged on by the Spirit of Christ, must walk the road Christ himself walked, a way of poverty and obedience, of service and self-sacrifice even to death, a death from which he emerged victorious by his resurrection." (AG 5).

In the Constitution on the Church in the Modern World, Vatican II leaders further developed the theme of service:

> "Faced with a world today where so many people are suffering from want, the council asks individuals and governments to remember the saying of the Fathers: 'Feed the people dying of hunger, because if you do not feed them you are killing them,' and it urges them according to their ability to share and dispose of their goods to help others, above all by giving them aid which will enable them to help and develop themselves." (Gaudium et Spes #69)

In the Compendium of the Social Doctrine of the Church, the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace wrote: "Among the areas of the social commitment of the laity, service to the human person emerges as a priority." (552) The Compendium goes on to quote Pope John Paul II in Christifidelis Laici, who declared that promoting the human dignity of every person is "the essential task , in a certain sense, the central and unifying task of the service which the Church, and the lay faithful in her, are called to render to the human family." (Christifidelis Laici, 37)

Pope Benedict XVI, in his encyclical Deus Caritas Est (God Is Love), wrote that "love for widows and orphans, prisoners, and the sick and needy of every kind, is as essential to [the Church] as the ministry of the sacraments and preaching of the Gospel." (no. 22) Since the Word and the sacraments are so vital to our Catholic identity, Pope Benedict was really emphasizing how important charity is in our lives. He described all Christian service as rooted in love, and reminded us that God is love. Therefore, God is the motive behind the good works we do.

No one embodies the Church's call to service more than our current pope. Pope Francis describes how we walk in Jesus' footsteps as his disciples:

> "We find Jesus' wounds in carrying out works of mercy, giving to our body—the body—the soul, too, but—I stress—the body of your wounded brother, because he is hungry, because he is thirsty, because he is naked…Those are the wounds of Jesus today." Pope Francis, July 3, 2013

U.S. Catholic Church

In 1986, our U.S. Catholic Bishops wrote Economic Justice for All. In that pastoral letter, they stressed that the obligation to provide justice for all means that the poor have the single most urgent economic claim on the conscience of the nation. (#86) We are called not just as individuals but as communities to serve those most in need.

The Department of Peace, Justice and Human Development of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) puts it this way: "…there is an essential connection between our faith and the way we put love into action in the world." (Sacraments and Social Mission, p. 1)

The USCCB website describes the seven basic themes of Catholic social teaching. Among the seven is the preferential option for the poor and vulnerable. The U.S. Catholic Bishops write:

> "A basic moral test is how our most vulnerable members are faring. In a society marred by deepening divisions between rich and poor, our tradition recalls the story of the Last Judgment (Mt 25:31-46) and instructs us to put the needs of the poor and vulnerable first."
