All Saints Parish wants to welcome you back while keeping you safe.

We have a plan in place to achieve social distancing as our attendance continues to grow. Once the church has reached capacity guidelines, we will be utilizing the gym next-door (St. Anthony campus) with Mass on screen to accommodate everyone.

A Eucharistic minister will bring communion to those attending Mass in the gym.

Hearts & Hands in Ministry

In these Covid times, we've had to adjust to our new situation in extraordinary ways. Last Sunday, we celebrated 1st communion in a very normal, beautiful and meaningful way for our children.

However, underlying that was a very unnormal preparation for our kids.

Sharon and her formation team had to basically reinvent their formation program to be virtual this year.

By all accounts, that was done effectively and professionally.

Religious formation in our faith continued despite all the obstacles.

We thank and recognize Sharon and her team of catechists, Janie Allen and Nancy Reinhart, for a job well done.

Women's Group Spring Project

We had the best time filling mugs with sweet treats for our homebound parishioners. We attached a beautiful prayer card to honor Mary for the month of May. We hope this simple act of kindness reminds them that they are in our thoughts and prayers.

Questions of the Week

First Reading:

In the home of the Gentile-believer, Cornelius, Peter revealed one of the most significant insights from the early Church: "In truth, I see that God shows no partiality." Where do you see this message of unity needed today?

Second Reading:

John saw love at the very core of God's divine identity. In fact, for John, "God is love." For this reason, believers are called to love one another. How do you keep this virtue paramount in your life?

Gospel:

During his farewell discourse, Jesus refers to his disciples as his "friends." How often do you think of Jesus as your "friend?"

Wanting to donate a portion of your Stimulus check to All Saints Parish?

Please consider our We Care Fund or a new fund called COVID Catch-Up which will help us make up our collection losses during the pandemic. Thank you for your generosity to All Saints Parish.

Remember a loved one at Mass

Please call the Parish Office at (812) 423-5209 or email jwittgen@evdio.org

You may also place a Mass Intention on our Parish App under the "Give" button.

Thank You A-Men's Club!

Members of the All Saints Men's Club assemble Street Tacos and Corn at St. Boniface for the Marian Educational Outreach fundraiser on May 1st. Thank you for your hard work and for your commitment to All Saints Parish and our community.

Family Faith Formation

"I received from the Lord what I handed on to you."
1 Corinthians 11:23

In today's readings, we hear of love...
...the coming of the Holy Spirit onto those who believed
...God's love for us made present in the world through Jesus
...the commandment to love one another as God loves us

What can you do to "hand on to others what we have learned from God?"

Justice Challenge ~ 6th Week of Easter

The Sunday Gospel for this week explores Jesus' powerful message of unconditional love.

Jesus teaches us to love one another; he uses words (and later actions) to help us understand that the greatest act of love one can give is to lay down one's life for others. (John 15:9-17) When Pope Benedict wrote his social encyclical Caritas in Veritate (Charity in Truth), he noted that the foundation for justice is love. Your challenge this week is to explore where and how love is the foundation for what you do—the decisions you make, the relationships you have, the way you spend money or vote, how you live at work or school. Are all of these facets of your life rooted in love? In 1971, the bishops of the world wrote a document in which they described social justice as the teachings and actions of our Church which apply the Gospel command of love to the structures and institutions in society. Your challenge is to apply the Gospel command of love to how you live in the world. Make this a genuine examination of conscience and see where it leads you.

Thoughtful Moments

Do as I do

Are you the kind of Catholic you want your children to be? Setting a good example must include not only what you say, but what you do. For example, model respect and love for the Mass by attending every weekend. Frequent the Sacrament of Reconciliation and rely on Scripture to help you hear the voice of God. Your children will want to do the same.

The company we keep

When we see someone doing good, we are inspired to do good too. The opposite is also true. Children whose consciences are still being formed can be easily led into sin by the bad examples of their friends. Be watchful about the company children keep and encourage friendships with those who do good.

"Turn thou to me, and be gracious to me: for I am lonely and afflicted. Relieve the troubles of my heart, and bring me out of my distresses." (Psalm 25:16-17).

Make your home a safe place

Many of us feel helpless and anxious as the global pandemic drags on. Imagine how children feel, especially when they aren't able to fully understand current events or adequately express their anxiety and fears. Even young children can absorb tension and stress from conversations they overhear.

Exercise patience. Remember that children grappling with underlying stress may act out in new and different ways. Daily challenges that wouldn't normally rattle youngsters can be the trigger for bouts of anger or bad behavior. Try to remember the context in which children are operating and be extra patient in reacting.

Answer questions. When they have questions, give them age-appropriate answers. Answer using simple statements and reassure them that God is watching out for each of His children.

Limit news. It's not possible to hide what is going on in the world, but children don't need a steady diet of news they may not be able to understand. No need to expose youngsters to reports that may only fuel their fears. Be sure to check their understanding of news they do hear or see.

Make family time a priority. To counter stress from the world, it helps to surround children with an atmosphere of love and comfort. Spend more time playing games, reading together, talking, and cuddling. Make your home their safe place.

Why Do Catholics Do That?

Why do Catholics respect creation?

"The earth is the Lord's and all it holds" (Psalm 24:1). The natural world is one way in which God reveals Himself to us. Therefore, we not only honor God for the gift of life but to honor His gift of creation.

When we treat the natural world with respect, we preserve resources for future generations. Pope Benedict XVI said, "It becomes more and more evident that there is an inseparable link between peace with creation and peace among men."

Parent like the Mother of God

God chose Mary to be the Mother of his Son, and gave her the preparation she needed to do the job. Jesus thought so highly of the mother she became, that his dying thoughts were of her: During this month for mothers, we can take parenting tips from the Mother of God:

"May it be done to me according to your word" (Luke 1:38). When faced with events beyond her understanding or control, Mary leaned on God. We, too, encounter situations we can't understand or control. That's when we can imitate Mary's trust to God. She didn't ask or argue. She just trusted. His plan worked out better than she could have dreamed. The same will continue for us.

"Do whatever he tells you" (John 4:5). Mary knew when her son was ready for his first public miracle so she gently nudged him when he hesitated. We, too, can show confidence in our children's competence and encourage them to reveal their strengths when they hesitate to believe in themselves.

Scripture LESSON

Matthew 28:16-20, "I will be with you always."

Jesus appeared to the Apostles on the mountain-top in Galilee so the crowd with them could see the Resurrected Christ and get their final instructions: to go, baptize and make disciples, and to teach them all he had taught them. Jesus also promised his disciples, and us, that he will be with us always.

Because Jesus is God, he is present everywhere. However, we encounter him in a special way in the Sacraments, especially in Holy Communion. At the Last Supper, Jesus took bread and wine, blessed them and gave them to his disciples, saying "This is my body...this is my blood... Do this in memory of me" (Luke 22:19-20).

When the priest prays over the bread and wine at Mass, they become Jesus' Body and Blood. This is how Jesus keeps his promise to be with us always.

What can a parent do? Remind children that Jesus loves them and is with them everywhere, especially in the Sacraments. In every Catholic church where the Eucharist is kept, Jesus is really present, waiting to spend time with them.

Parent TALK

My eleven-year-old daughter, Kara, has two best friends at school whom she has known since first grade. They were all on the same soccer team. This year there was a new girl in their class. Harlow transferred from another school and didn't know anyone. I suggested that Kara invite her over when she and her friends got together on Saturday.

"But Mom, all she does is read history books," Kara complained. "If her sister doesn't even know how to play soccer!" I urged Kara to give her a chance. I asked her to think about how Harlow must feel having left all her other friends behind. Reluctantly, she agreed.

To her surprise, Harlow could play soccer but needed help improving her passing. The girls helped her and played the whole afternoon, alternating between soccer, videogames, and board games. They had a great time! When Harlow left, she promised to invite her new friends to her house next time.

Feasts & Celebrations

May 1 – St. Joseph the Worker (1st century). Entrusted with the care of the Blessed Mother and Jesus, Joseph was a carpenter dedicated to his family and obedient to God.

May 23 – Pentecost (1st century). Today, we celebrate the birthday of the Church, when the Holy Spirit was given to the Apostles, following the Resurrection and Ascension of Jesus.

May 27 – St. Augustine of Canterbury (604). Despite mistakes and failures, Augustine persevered as a missionary to rough and dangerous times in England. Worthy of praise and retained local customs from Christian rites. His efforts would eventually bear fruit in the conversion of England after his death.

May 30 – St. Joan of Arc (1412). The patron saint of France, St. Joan was inspired by God in a vision to lead the French to victory during the Hundred Year's War against England. Her troops successfully freed Orleans from the English. She was captured, sold to the English, and falsely accused of sorcery. She was canonized in 1920.
