All our Parish Picnic Helpers

Last Sunday we had a very happy gathering for our parish picnic. Thanks to the men of the A-Men's Club and José Ramirez, the tacos and food were terrific. We also thank all who made donations and helped in other ways to make it a success. We especially note our two confirmation candidates who helped scoop the ice cream. The witness of good stewardship lies primarily in our willingness and generosity to serve.

First Reading:

The Wisdom writer reveals the mentality of the wicked, characterized by revenge and treachery. How best should people of faith respond to such behavior?

Second Reading:

James offers insight into the human condition as it relates to how often our ambitions and passions can lead us astray. How do you keep yourself grounded in holy intentions?

Gospel:

We hear today how the disciples were afraid to ask Jesus questions and reluctant to share with him some of their tensions. Why do you sometimes hold back from opening up to the Lord?

In today's Gospel, we hear...

"What were you arguing about on the way?"

But they remained silent.

They had been discussing among themselves on the way who was the greatest.

Then he sat down, called the Twelve, and said to them,

"If anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and the servant of all."

Taking a child, he placed it in their midst,

and putting his arms around it, he said to them,

"Whoever receives one child such as this in my name,

receives me; and whoever receives me,

receives not me but the One who sent me."

I've always felt that I understood the "If anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and the servant of all." Discipleship is about service to others. We strive for discipleship...we serve.

However, how are we meant to interpret,

"Taking a child, he placed it in their midst,

and putting his arms around it, he said to them,

"Whoever receives one child such as this in my name,

receives me; and whoever receives me, receives not me but the One who sent me." How are we meant to "receive a child?" Was there something special about

"one child such as this?"

I have had the opportunity to spend time with many children over the years. They each had their individual personalities, strengths and challenges. Honestly, some of them drove me a bit nuts. Some of them were the cutest, kindest person. Some were very intelligent students...some needed extra help or a different teaching approach and extra time from me. Some came to church and sat quietly...others talked and played during Mass.

I have learned something important about myself and what discipleship means to me from each of these children. There was no "good" or "bad" child. They were who they were. I think this is the lesson I need to remember from today's Gospel. Everyone is who God created them to be. All people are gifts from God. All people are to be accepted. Is this easy for me? No. Is it what I feel God calls me to? Yes. This discipleship stuff is not easy!

Justice Challenge

25th Week in Ordinary Time

The Sunday Gospel has the apostles arguing about which one of them was the greatest. In response, Jesus taught them, "If anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and the servant of all." (Mark 9:30-37) Jesus told his followers to be like little children in order to get to heaven. Your challenge this week is to look at how important being first, being recognized, or being the "greatest" is to you. How competitive are you? Do you win at the expense of others? Do you expect others to serve you? Or are you a missionary disciple, as Pope Francis has challenged all of us to be? Instead of focusing on winning, do you go to the periphery, to the margins, and reach out to those most in need of God's love? Take some time to reflect on which is more important to you—being first or being one who serves others. Do you need to make a change?

Faith & Racial Justice: Changing Systems and Structures

Program Goals...

Faith & Racial Justice: Changing Systems and Structures invites participants to formulate their own Christian-rooted responses to racism in their churches, workplaces, and communities.

Faith and Racial Justice turns a group of individuals into a community rooted in trust and compassion. Through new learning from articles, videos, and resource books, it lends new insights to participants' awareness of privilege and racism. By encouraging new spiritual practices and informed action, it cultivates an expanding community of Christians who work to dismantle racism in their respective contexts.

"Transformative is the single word that comes to mind. This program challenges us to deal with (and not just examine) the reality of racial injustice on individuals, families, and communities as well as entire segments of our country..." - John L., Participant
