Bulletin Bloopers

"Pastor is on vacation. Massages can be given to the church secretary."

"Don't let worry kill you — let the church help."

One Sunday morning, I heard snickering from the pews. Quickly grabbing the bulletin, I found the cause. The sermon title for that day was: "What Makes God Sick: Pastor Joe Smith."

Helpful Prayer

Billy had been misbehaving and was sent to his room. After a while he emerged and informed his mother that he had thought it over and then said a prayer. "Fine," said the pleased mother. "If you ask God to help you not misbehave, He will help you." "Oh, I didn't ask Him to help me not misbehave," said Johnny. "I asked Him to help you put up with me."

Fr. Steve homily

We have become more complacent.

Do we see the poor? Do we care about the poor? Do we take people for granted? Are we too comfortable? We are challenged to be generous.

Fr. Jay homily

Lazarus and the rich man.

What was the rich man's sin?

Who is the Lazarus in our world?

When we compare ourselves to Lazarus and the rich man, where are we on that continuum?

Compared to the rest of the world, we're probably leaning more toward the rich man than Lazarus.

The poor in other countries. The poor who live around here. Where are the poor people in our lives?

Loneliness, grief, need support and love, suffering in many ways.. Who are these people in our lives. How do we reach out to them?

Jesus has given us what we have for us to use and to share with others.

Janie Allen

CPC

Excited and happy that we have resources where we can go. There are many ways Catholic Charities helps. They also partner with other community agencies.

What can I do to help people? We heard two stories tonight about people who needed help.

Our pledges are used to help people. There are over 2000 references in the Bible to "the poor."

How can we go out and help? This is what Jesus wants us to do? We can help by praying and deciding what we can pledge to the CPC.

Justice Challenge 27th Week in Ordinary Time

We celebrate the Feast of Saint Francis of Assisi on October 4. Francis is without doubt one of the most well-known and beloved saints in our tradition. He is known for his devotion to the crucified Christ, his simplicity, his compassion for the poor, and his love of creation. Francis' love for God's creation made him the perfect choice to be named patron saint of ecology. In honor of Francis, and to live out the seventh principle of Catholic social teaching, "Care for God's Creation," choose one thing you can do this week to protect our earth. It might be drinking tap water instead of bottled water, or recycling if you aren't already doing so, or walking or riding bikes instead of taking the car somewhere close. Then, at the end of the week, challenge yourselves as families to continue the practice on a regular basis.

OR

October is the Month of the Rosary. We honor our Blessed Mother and focus on her role in the life of Christ through the Mysteries of the Rosary. The Second Joyful Mystery, the Visitation, reminds us of how Mary, even when she carried the Son of God in her womb, was still mindful of others. She went in haste to visit and support her cousin Elizabeth, who in her old age was pregnant with John the Baptist. Your challenge this week is to pray this decade of the Rosary, then discuss who needs you to visit and support them. Then do it! At the end of the week, pray the Magnificat (Luke 1:46-56) and, like Mary, praise God for lifting up the meek and the lowly.

"This is my body given for you." (Luke 22:19)... Awesome God
People reaching for God and God reaching for people.
We can't get there on our own.

In Luke's Gospel this week we hear,
The apostles said to the Lord, "Increase our faith."
The Lord replied,
"If you have faith the size of a mustard seed,
you would say to this mulberry tree,
'Be uprooted and planted in the sea,' and it would obey you."

What does your faith challenge or enable you to do?

Abbreviated Executive Summary

INTRODUCTION

Over the last several months, it has been a joy to listen to the people of the Diocese of Evansville share their experience of how God has been present and active in their lives. It is clear that there is a great treasure in the hearts of our people that often goes unnoticed and unappreciated. It is our hope that the work we have done in doing our part to prepare for the 2023 Synod of Bishops on Synodality will not only be an offering to the Universal Church, but a starting point for more intentional dialogue with our people. We need to find more ways to highlight the great cloud of witnesses who simply and often silently bear witness to Christ.

The Diocese of Evansville conducted over 25 listening sessions throughout its 12 counties in Southwestern Indiana. There were over 600 people who participated in either a listening session or completed an online survey. At the same time, we realize that there were still those who were not heard. We hope that ongoing efforts at synodality will result in a deeper relationship among the people of our Diocese.

A team of 16 lay facilitators were trained to guide the listening sessions and generate a synthesis for each session. These syntheses were used, along with the feedback from the online surveys, to create a synthesis, which was submitted to the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. Those who facilitated the listening sessions were also invited to review our full synthesis to ensure its accuracy. This Abbreviated Executive Summary summarizes what we discovered throughout this process. The full Executive Summary can be found at evdio.org/synod.

EUCCHARIST

The Eucharist was the predominant theme that emerged from the People of God in the Diocese of Evansville. "It is through the Eucharist that Christ makes himself present in our lives." The people of our Diocese strongly emphasized the importance of encountering Christ in the Eucharist. It is through Christ that we come to know and understand ourselves and our mission in the world. The Eucharist brings a wide diversity of individuals together, strengthening us as a family in Christ, who in receiving the Eucharist are then sent out to act. The Eucharist is what helps us listen: it is what puts us in front of Jesus so that we can listen to Him.

PARISH LIFE

Many people shared that their parish community is a source of joy in their lives. We journey together by participating in Mass and through opportunities to share our faith with each other through programs and retreats, working at parish picnics and serving in various ministries within the Church. People noted that involvement is essential to the life of the community; that we need to find ways to remain connected and that outreach is a critical part of our mission.

ECCLESIAL MOVEMENTS

“By being involved in smaller groups, we are more effective in journeying together.” The following movements and retreats were identified by our people as having a substantial impact on their lives: Cursillo, Christ Renews His Parish, Teens Encounter Christ, Communion and Liberation, Source and Summit, The Christian Family Movement, Renew, and Why Catholic? They help us to share life and change culture; they are an entry point into the life of the Church and they help us to deepen our spiritual lives.

ACCOMPANIMENT

“I believe God is asking us to come together as a family and take care of each other.” There was a sense among our people that, as Catholics, we are being asked to be part of a larger community and to be in relationship with one another. There is a real desire to be welcoming and accompany new people, but also an awareness that we sometimes fail in this regard because of fear, uncertainty or discomfort. But, we can be better ambassadors of the faith; God is asking us to speak of our faith to those who are hungry for something more than the world can give.

COVID-19

The COVID-19 pandemic caused our people a lot of sadness and distress as churches were closed in an effort to keep everyone safe and healthy. It led to feelings of frustration and anger toward the Church, and many expressed a profound loss at the absence of the sacraments. The desire that churches not be “closed” again was a point of significant emotion and concern. We had to adjust to virtual liturgies; people missed their parish communities; and there was an opportunity to grow from this period of struggle.

CHURCH MISSION & METHODS

With regard to the Church and her mission and methods, there were a number of themes highlighted by our people. On one side, their comments show a great love for the Church and the immense value of their faith; while at the same time, there is some frustration with the Church: dealing with everything from lengthy processes, seemingly meaningless protocols and a perceived lack of leadership.

REMAINING CHALLENGES

A number of challenges were listed that need further attention and dialogue. These challenges highlight everything from ecclesiology to pastoral care; from unity to addressing the changing culture in which we live. These challenges are listed in their entirety on the Final Executive Summary.

CONCLUDING COMMENTS

This experience of intentionally listening to our people and inviting the gift of the Holy Spirit to shed light on our experience has offered some important insights into the lives of our people. We noticed that many struggled to speak from their own experiences of God and tended to focus on the things they didn’t like at their parish or in the Church. We also noticed that people wanted to be heard and understood. They appreciated the opportunity to share their experience of faith with the local Church. The final observation is the need and desire for faith to be a lived experience. Our people want to understand how their faith relates to life and what relevance it has to their families, their work and their leisure.
