17TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Justice Challenge

17th Week in Ordinary Time

Family reunions happen a lot during the summer months. You may have seen signs or notices in parks where families have reserved space to come together to catch up on news, share family stories and food and to celebrate their heritage. When we take time to nurture relationships and to support and celebrate our families, it is a blessing. Our families are the first places we learn about faith and what it means to be a part of God's family. There are some things we know about being a part of God's family: we must feed the hungry, clothe the naked, give drink to those who thirst and visit those in prison. Our families help us do this good work. How has your family been a witness to you of being Christ in the world?

Family Faith Formation

"This is my body given for you." (Luke 22:19) ...Awesome God

People reaching for God and God reaching for people. We can't get there on our own.

The other part of the Eucharistic prayer that I love is just before it ends when we are called to remember all those who have died and all of the Saints. As I've shared before, the Communion of Saints is one my favorite things about being Catholic. The ever presence of everyone who has died. They are so much a part of my daily life. From St. Anthony for my current lost item, to St. Isidore of Seville when I am yelling at my laptop, to my grandparents and aunt and uncle when I'm wanting help with family... There is peace and reassurance for me in knowing they are all with me. And, I am reminded of this every time I hear the Eucharistic prayer.

Fr. Steve

This parable is pretty simple isn't it...let them grow together?

Do we have the patience to let the weeds in the wheat grow together? What does this tell us about our God? God calls and cares for the good and the bad. God is patient and kind. God is merciful and forgiving even to the enemy that plants the weeds in our fields.

The parable says, let them grow together until harvest. God will do the separating. God is the one who shows clemency. God is the one who is lenient and kind. That may not have been the God you grew up with. That is the God that we hear today.

All of us have weeds in our life. All of us would do well to be pulling our own weeds. God is with us. We all need to be patient.

The weeds of hatred and jealousy, bitterness and envy, they are all part of our lives. The sinful part. God wants to help us.

What else in our lives do we need to be patient with and let it work itself out? This parable reminds me that we need to appreciate God's patients and mercy. Even though we live in this broken world, we still see God's help and deliverance.

Thank God that God is bigger and better and more beautiful than any of us can ever imagine.

THIS WEEKEND...

Sisters of St. Benedict, Ferdinand Mission Appeal

Let us welcome Sr. Kathy Huber!

For over 50 years, the Sisters of St. Benedict of Ferdinand, Indiana, with the support of the Diocese of Evansville, have served in Peru, South America in ministries of education, health care and pastoral work. She will be sharing greetings from the sisters in Peru along with stories from the many years of ministry that the sisters have provided to the people of this country. An opportunity to continue to support the work of the sisters will be offered.

Kristi and Vince Wagner and Brenda Meyer traveled to Emory University for the Roundtable meeting for Diocesan Social Action Directors in July. We spent three days learning about human trafficking of individuals for sex or use of their labor. Human trafficking is modern-day slavery. It involves the illegal transport of individuals by force or deception for the purpose of labor, sexual exploitation, or activities in which others (not the person themselves) profit financially. The United States is the destination for many of the sex trafficking victims. We learned of children, men and women caught up in sex trafficking, young people and young adults offered "jobs with schooling opportunities" in more affluent countries which turned out to be traps and even three generational families where the children and grandchildren were enslaved to pay off a parent's debt that could never be repaid.

This is a 50 million person problem around the world. One presenter told Kristi that she could come into our community and very quickly identify where trafficking was happening in our community. It can happen anywhere, and rural areas or small communities are not free of this problem. It appears that those individuals on the fringe in any community are vulnerable. Those most at risk are those who are immigrants who do not have language skills in the places they land. Also, the likelihood that someone possess as a helper and tricks or traps the person into servitude is high. We came back not sure of what we should be doing in our community, but feel our eyes were opened for a reason. We are praying for those who are caught up in this mind, soul and body breaking abuse. We hope to start the conversation so that we can make a difference.

A few of us (Kristi and Vince Wagner, Brenda Meyer and several others) saw the movie Sound of Freedom on opening night at the Northside Showplace Cinemas. It is still in town and is one of those movies we think you shouldn't miss. The movie tells the struggle of two young children who were tricked into human trafficking through the guise of getting involved in the glamor photography business and those who tracked them down and rescued them. Yet it is told in a manner that opens one's eyes without traumatizing the viewer. Not easy viewing, but we think increases understanding and puts a human face on a very difficult subject.

The Gospel of Matthew was not the first Gospel written, but arguably has been the most favored Gospel for Christians over the Church's history. It is also the Gospel we will hear on Sundays throughout this liturgical year. Monday, August 31 at 6:30 pm, Tom Bogenschutz will offer a presentation and lead a discussion on Matthew's Gospel. We will explore this Gospel's special character as well as reflect on key passages. This will be held in the Davidson Rm (parish office), but you can also join the discussion online by requesting a Zoom invite by emailing Tom, tbogenschutz@evdio.org. All are invited and welcome.

Kissing the Altar at Mass

Question:

Why do priests kiss the altar at the start of Mass?

Answer:

Our churches and chapels are filled with symbols. We might think of the more common symbols (like the crucifix, statues, stained-glass windows, vestment color and altar cloths) as well as major symbols (such as the paschal candle and the baptismal font). But there are some things that we can take for granted in our sacred spaces, because unfortunately, they seem to just be part of the building, including three of the main symbols of our liturgy: the ambo (lectern), the chair for the priest celebrant, and the altar.

These three objects are placed in a specially designated area called the sanctuary. They are the places where the Word of God is proclaimed, where the priest prays and presides at the celebration, and where the bread and wine are offered by the priest during the Eucharistic Prayer. Although each of these objects is sacred because of the role they play in our worship, the altar holds a special place. In a document containing the rules and instructions for the Mass — the "General Instruction of the Roman Missal" — we read: "The altar on which the Sacrifice of the Cross is made present under sacramental signs is also the table of the Lord to which the People of God is called together to participate in the Mass, as well as the center of the thanksgiving that is accomplished throughout the Eucharist" (no. 296).

One of the ways that we recognize the importance of the altar is when the priest and deacon kiss the altar at the beginning of Mass. Kissing is an ancient act of devotion. Remember, we also kiss the cross on Good Friday, and the deacon or priest kisses the "Book of the Gospels" after the Gospel is proclaimed. This act of devotion reminds us that the altar is a symbol of Jesus, the "living stone" (see 1 Peter 2:4), the foundation stone of our faith. It is a symbol gesture, but it is a powerful reminder of the One on whom our faith is built and in whose name we gather as the "household of faith" (see Galatians 6:10). To learn more, see the "Catechism of the Catholic Church" (no. 1382-1383).

"Go and make disciples"

We're all called to spread the Gospel as missionaries (Mark 16:15), but not everyone is required to travel. As a Carmelite nun, St. Thérèse of Lisieux lived out her "second calling" to be a missionary. Here are three ways to spread the Gospel within any vocation:

Go deeper in your faith. You can't share what you don't have. St. Thérèse developed her "Little Way" of holiness after years of prayer and study. Step deeper into your faith daily: read a section of the Catechism, pray over a verse of Scripture, listen to a Catholic podcast while driving or walking, pray.

Adopt-a-missionary: St. Thérèse was a "spiritual sister" to several missionaries, writing them letters and supporting them in prayer, indirectly helping hundreds of souls. Adopt a missionary – or anyone who shares the Faith. Contact your parish or diocese for suggestions.

"Intercession fueled by charity": St. Thérèse lovingly offered to God the "thorns" she received from others – discomforts, misunderstandings, hurt feelings – to win souls for Christ. Offer your "thorns" as saving graces.
